$20 Note
Issued 1990 - 1998

All U.S. currency remains legal tender, regardless of when it was issued.

Key Security Features

Security Thread
Hold the note to light to see an embedded thread running vertically to the left of the Federal Reserve Bank seal. The thread is imprinted with the letters USA and the word TWENTY in an alternating pattern and is visible from both sides of the note. The thread glows green when illuminated by ultraviolet light.

Microprinting
Look carefully (magnification may be necessary) to see the small printed words THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA along the outer edge of the portrait’s oval frame.

Additional Design and Security Features

Federal Reserve Bank Seal
A black seal to the left of the portrait which bears the name and corresponding letter of the distributing Federal Reserve Bank.

Treasury Seal
A green seal to the right of the portrait represents the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

Raised Printing
Move your finger along the note’s surface to feel the raised printing, which gives genuine Federal Reserve notes their distinctive texture.

Paper
Federal Reserve note paper is one-fourth linen and three-fourths cotton, and contains red and blue security fibers.

Portrait and Vignette
The $20 note features a portrait of President Jackson on the front of the note and a vignette of the White House on the back of the note.

Serial Numbers
A unique combination of eleven numbers and letters appears twice on the front of the note.
